Platform and Resolutions

Adopted by the Republican State Convention held at Virginia City, Nevada, September 4th 1890.

The record of the Republican party is its best platform.

No political party in human history has taken such advanced positions for the equality of races, none has wedded the administration of authority to the needs of business, none has so managed the affairs of a State as to encourage the development and settlement of a continent, none has elevated a nation and so contributed to the comfort and happiness of man, none has so honestly and economically carried on the routine duties of office.

In all things it has been the direct opposite of the Democratic party. Grand in its ambitions and impulses, firm and resolute in its consistency, strong in its devotion to principle, it is now, as it has been from its birth, the representative of all that is best and noblest in its own country and hope and promise of a better future for the human race.

Its battles for human rights, its preservation of the Union, its abolition of slavery, its protection to labor, its elevation of manufacturers, its upholding of the national credit, its efforts in behalf of honest financial methods, its homestead system, and its devotion to popular education have made for it the greatest record of any political organization this or any other country ever had.

The names of its heroes are legion, and the deeds of Fremont, Lincoln, Grant and Garfield will shine like electric lights on the pages of history.

The Republicans of Nevada, in convention assembled, heartily indorse the acts of the fifty-first Congress, which has made greater advances in correct and needed legislation than any since the war.

The crime of filibustering, so often resorted to by the Democratic party for the purpose of defeating legislation and blocking the wheels of government, has been done away with by the genius of Reed, McKinley and their associates, and the offenders taught that congressmen are paid by the people for making laws and not bad policies.

It had, by a strictly party vote, placed the silver question on a basis that will lead naturally to free coinage and disarm all opposition among financiers.

It has taken up the work of a readjustment of the tariff in a patriotic and business-like way, such as will protect the interest of labor and at the same time encourage capital to enterprise that will furnish it with employment at good wages.

News items, which were denied, their rights to do so having been granted to the Union, have been granted to the Republicans.

Trusts that grew rank under Cleveland's Administration have been broken up and made to obey the laws of honest commerce.

Efforts are being made to prevent or put down frauds and intimidations in elections.

A navy has been provided for and suitable positions granted to prevent sailing among the sick and wounded heroes of the war.

Provision has been made for the reclamation of wide regions, where the Republican policy of free homes and free schools may be extended.

Unearned land grants are being restored to the public domain and the lands thrown open to settlers, and in all cases the right of homesteading of the National parks are being upheld.

We endorse the administration of President Harrison and commend his conservative course as striking in contrast with his successor in office.

Democrats who are in a position to do so should be induced to support him.

He is a man of great ability and we trust he will be successful in his efforts to improve the condition of the country.

We pledge our name to a system of statehood movements which will save the water power running to waste, and give means to secure its use in the irrigation of the fertile lands now lying fallow.

We endorse the measure introduced by Senator Stewart opposing to cede the lands with no strings to the state with the purpose of getting to improve our water storage and irrigation system, and we appeal to Congress and the President to grant this much-needed aid.

We endorse the course of our senators and representatives in Congress, and commend their efforts to establish on a better basis the use of silver as money, and the proposal of suspending the coinage of gold and silver and their equal circulation in our national currency.

Whereas, the practice of filing contracts in this State to remove residents herefrom to see and obtain some benefit or advantage for the purpose of subverting the state, has been adopted in an unfair and impudent mail service.

Resolved, That our delegation in Congress request to procure, if possible, the enactment of a law to prevent such abuses in the future.

We are in favor of the improvement of the wages of American labor by securing immigration from foreign countries, then through revision of our naturalization and land laws, the construction of naval and army arsenals, the development of foreign and domestic markets, and the encouragement of a system of irrigation.

Resolved, That we oppose the proposal of Congress for the construction of a system of irrigation.
